

ALTERMODERNS

"'The garage bizarre'. A fierce burst of rock'n'roll-infused rhythm.."
(Lenny Helsing / Shindig! Magazine)

"AlterModerns, the band, are as cool as fuck. Art'n'politics and simple rock'n'roll is all your brain and body need.."
(Ged Babey / Louder Than War)

"A psychedelic rock bouncer with powerful energy..."
(Llewelyn Screen / A&R Factory)

Originally from Brazil, AlterModerns are a Bristol-based duo who have never been afraid to wear their influences on their musical sleeves, and Glauco Caruso (guitar/vocals) and Ananda Kuhn (drums/vocals) combine their love of The Sonics, Love and Bo Diddley with a badge of honour.

With their debut album on the horizon by Grovie Records (Portugal) and a feature film in the making (Turistas), it will be a busy year of releases for the two artists, including a split 7" record in partnership with Formosa Punk Records (Japan) with a selection of 'docufictional' songs about how communication, travel and migration affect a way of life.

Positive reviews about the band's first singles have met with radio play, including Raving Pop Blast!, Dandelion Radio (Festive 50), RadioLux (Spain), RockRadioUK, PaulGroovieShow, BCFm93.2, DinâmicoFM (Brazil), WMBR FM (Boston, USA), KUCR (California, USA), Evolrock Radio (Bogotá, Colombia)...
